Master Conservationist Program Graduates Statewide Meet-up!

All Master Conservationist Program graduates are invited to attend the first ever graduate meet-up! The goal for this event is to get graduates together to explore different parts of Iowa while providing space for socializing and learning. The event will begin with a dinner and social at the Desoto National Wildlife Refuge on September 29th, followed by a day of field trips around the Loess Hills on September 30th!

When:
September 29th at 5pm - Dinner and Social at Desoto National Wildlife Refuge
September 30th from 9am to 4pm - Field Trips and Presentations

Where: Loess Hills State Forest

Who: Open to all Master Conservationist Program graduates

Cost: $35

Registration:
https://go.iastate.edu/BWODOE

Registration cost for this event is $35 and payment in the form of cash or check will be accepted at the event. Dinner on Friday evening and lunch on Saturday will be provided. Pre-registration is required. Registration closes on Monday, September 18th!

Lodging is not provided. Those traveling can explore surrounding areas for overnight accommodations: Missouri Valley, Onawa, Denison, Harlan, and Council Bluffs, IA or Blair, NE.